Today, Dany goes to the playground with Esma and her mum after daycare. Yippee! The children put on their coats and shoes. “The zip won’t close,” says Dany. Where is Esma’s other boot?

“Come on, let’s jump in the puddle!”
It makes a splash!

“Okay, let’s press together.”

They go to the supermarket.
Esma's mum buys red tomatoes and yellow bananas.
Dany chooses three apples.
The apples are green and are lovely and shiny.
"I'll push the trolley!" says Esma.

Here comes the bus.
All aboard!
The man at the window is asleep.
“What can you hear?” asks Dany.

So many children!
Dany's mum and little brother are also there.
Sliding, swinging, climbing...
"What shall we do first?" asks Esma.
"Let's eat something!" says Dany.
The apples taste sweet and a little sour.
Yummy!

“Hello!” a boy suddenly calls out.
That’s Otto from daycare!
“Let’s make some soup?”
Oh yes! Leaves, sand and stones – what else can we add?

It's slowly getting dark. Dany is tired.
"Oh no, I've lost my bow.
Will you help me look for it tomorrow?" asks Esma.
Dany nods. "Of course!
And then we'll make soup again, okay?"
"Oh yes! Great!" exclaims Otto.

Dany and Esma have an exciting day:
they take the bus, go shopping and play in the playground.
It's nice to discover the world together with all your senses.

A banana is hidden on every page of this book.
Can you find it?

On one page in the book, Esma has lost her pink bow. Where is it?
